

Hits Jeb-affiliated PNAC a few times

- Officially in
- We must extricate ourselves from wars
- We must be investing in public schools and colleges, especially in the cities
- We must do more for Native Americans, new Americans
- Priorities must be education, infrastructure, healthcare, environmental stewardship, and a strong middle class
- There were 23 senators that voted against the Iraq war—I'd like to share my reasons
 - The long painful chapter of the Vietnam era was finally ending. This was my generation and the last thing I wanted was any return.
 - I learned in the first 9 months of the Bush-Cheney administration, prior to 9/11, not to trust them. Bush said he was not a divider, that he would regulate CO2, and he broke those promises early on.
 - Many of the cheerleaders for the Iraq War had been writing to advocate regime change for years. Hawks wanted disorder and chaos sweeping through the region. So-called neo-cons, inexperienced in war, were gung-ho, and didn't have the guts to argue their points to the American people. They knew there were no WMDs and they purposely mislead us. After a CIA briefing, I wasn't convinced. It's heartbreaking that more of my colleagues failed to do their homework. Those who mislead us are still key advisors to presidential campaigns today.
- We have to change our thinking, find a way to wage peace. Let's have a rewrite for PNAC.
- The 70th anniversary of the UN is in a few weeks—its charter says to unite our strength to maintain peace and security. Let's reinvigorate the United Nations.
- Let's be bold—I would institute a ban on ambassadorships for sale. I want the best trained of these people doing the best work. It's crucial the integrity of SecState never questioned.
- Allow Snowden to come home
- Drone strikes are not working—leads to chaos in Yemen and pesters Pakistan, not worth collateral damage and toxic hatred, let's stop them.
- Praises TPP
- "I would repair relations with Ecuador, Bolivia, Venezuela"
- Rethink the war on drugs—let's have an active, open-minded approach to drug trafficking.
- Wants to end capitol punishment
- Wants to go to the metric system
- Quotes MLK Jr

Hits Jeb-affiliated PNAC a few times

- Officially in
- We must extricate ourselves from wars
- We must be investing in public schools and colleges, especially in the cities
- We must do more for Native Americans, new Americans

- Priorities must be education, infrastructure, healthcare, environmental stewardship, and a strong middle class
- There were 23 senators that voted against the Iraq war—I'd like to share my reasons
 - The long painful chapter of the Vietnam era was finally ending. This was my generation and the last thing I wanted was any return.
 - I learned in the first 9 months of the Bush-Cheney administration, prior to 9/11, not to trust them. Bush said he was not a divider, that he would regulate CO2, and he broke those promises early on.
 - Many of the cheerleaders for the Iraq War had been writing to advocate regime change for years. Hawks wanted disorder and chaos sweeping through the region. So-called neo-cons, inexperienced in war, were gung-ho, and didn't have the guts to argue their points to the American people. They knew there were no WMDs and they purposely mislead us. After a CIA briefing, I wasn't convinced. It's heartbreaking that more of my colleagues failed to do their homework. Those who mislead us are still key advisors to presidential campaigns today.
- We have to change our thinking, find a way to wage peace. Let's have a rewrite for PNAC.
- The 70th anniversary of the UN is in a few weeks—its charter says to unite our strength to maintain peace and security. Let's reinvigorate the United Nations.
- Let's be bold—I would institute a ban on ambassadorships for sale. I want the best trained of these people doing the best work. It's crucial the integrity of SecState never questioned.
- Allow Snowden to come home
- Drone strikes are not working—leads to chaos in Yemen and pesters Pakistan, not worth collateral damage and toxic hatred, let's stop them.
- Praises TPP
- "I would repair relations with Ecuador, Bolivia, Venezuela"
- Rethink the war on drugs—let's have an active, open-minded approach to drug trafficking.
- Wants to end capitol punishment
- Wants to go to the metric system
- Quotes MLK Jr